

Hi,

Stocks notched a solid gain as dovish comments from Federal Reserve officials boosted the market's recovery from early August lows.

The Standard & Poor's 500 Index rose 1.45 percent, while the Nasdaq Composite added 1.40 percent. The Dow Jones Industrial Average picked up 1.27 percent. The MSCI EAFE Index, which tracks developed overseas stock markets, gained 2.98 percent.<sup>1,2</sup>

Dovish Week

Stocks started the week strong, rallying after Wall Street welcomed dovish comments from Minneapolis Fed President Neel Kashkari. The S&P 500 and Nasdaq each posted gains on Monday—the 8th consecutive winning session. The Dow rose for the 5th session in a row.<sup>3,4</sup>

From there, markets traded in a narrow band until Wednesday afternoon when minutes released from the July 30-31 FOMC Meeting revealed more dovish comments. On Thursday, stocks dipped ahead of Fed Chair Jerome Powell's annual Jackson Hole, Wyoming, speech.<sup>5,6</sup>

Well-received comments from Powell on Friday boosted markets, with all three averages closing higher.<sup>7</sup>

“The Time has Come”

The Fed’s annual symposium for global central bankers started Friday morning with Fed Chair Powell’s much-anticipated speech. Citing the risk of the labor market cooling even further, he said, “the time has come for policy to adjust.”

Investors responded favorably, with the remaining question being how significant a rate cut might be. Powell kept that door open, adding that “the timing and pace of rate cuts will depend on incoming data, the evolving outlook, and the balance of risks.”<sup>8</sup>

TAX TIP

Gig Economy Tax Tips

There are some essential tips to remember if you work as a gig worker, someone who takes temporary work through one or more employers:

- All income from these sources is taxable, regardless of whether you receive information returns; this includes both full-time and part-time work and if you're paid in cash.
- As a gig worker, you must be correctly classified as an employee or an independent contractor; this can depend on where you live, even for the same services.

Lastly, it's important to remember to pay the correct amount of taxes on this income throughout the years to avoid owing when you file. Because gig employees don't have an employer withholding taxes from their paychecks, they can either submit a new W-4 and have their employer withhold more from their paycheck (if they have another job as an employee) or make quarterly estimated tax payments throughout the year.

Boost Your Productivity With These Tips

Take regular breaks. It seems counterintuitive, but most people are more productive when they take regular breaks.

Do the challenging tasks first. Mark Twain famously said to "eat the frog first thing in the morning," meaning you should tackle your most difficult task immediately.

Make two to-do lists. One that has your weekly goals and objectives and one that has your daily tasks.

Divide large projects into manageable steps. Make the things on your to-do list specific so you can continue to cross things out and make progress.

WEEKLY RIDDLE

Anna, a supermarket clerk, has not slept during any of the past six nights, yet she is not tired. How can this be?

Last week's riddle: It stands higher than any tree, yet it seemingly takes forever to grow, and you can't see its roots. You won't have to shimmy up any trunk to reach its top. What is it? Answer: A mountain.
